

High Court Puts Limit On Lender Liability

By Charles Lane

Washington Post Staff Writer

Wednesday, December 1, 2004

The Supreme Court yesterday overturned a five-figure damage award to an Alexandria man for a local auto dealer's alleged loan scam, ruling that a Richmond-based federal appeals court had wrongly interpreted a federal fair-credit law when it upheld the award last year.

To view the entire article, click on the link below.

High Court Puts Limit On Lender Liability

To read the amicus brief, click on the link below.

Koons Buick Pontiac GMC Inc. v. Nigh, No. 03-377